A Timely Message

"Each moment in history is fleeting time, precious and unique . . .

"The second third of this century has been a time of proud achievement. We have made enormous strides in science and industry and agriculture . . .

"We are caught in war, wanting peace. We are torn by division, wanting unity. We see around us empty lives, wanting fulfillment. We see tasks that need doing, waiting for hands to do them . . .

"We see the hope of tomorrow in the youth of today. I know America's youth. I believe in them. We can be proud that they are better educated, more committed, more passionately driven by conscience than any generation that has gone before . . .

"We cannot learn from one another until we stop shouting at one another—until we speak quietly enough so that our words can be heard as well as our voices . . .

"We cannot expect to make everyone our friend, but we can try to make no one our enemy . . .

"As we learn to go forward together at home, let us also seek to go forward together with all mankind. Let us take as our goal: where peace is unknown, make it welcome; where peace is fragile, make it strong; where peace is temporary, make it permanent . . .

"What kind of a nation we will be, what kind of a world we live in, whether we shape the future in the image of our hopes, is ours to determine by our actions and our choices."

Dedication

Mr. James Carroll

We, the Class of 1969, dedicate this yearbook to you, Mr. Carroll, in recognition of your lasting contributions to Andover High School. Through your teaching you have given us the opportunity to learn the value of manual arts. Through your leadership you have guided us in creating the Student Activity Center, a plan for using the school facilities outside the academic day and for organizing outside group activities. SAC's Student Lounge and Ski Trips have been a source of recreation while the extended library hours have proven helpful in our studies.

May this book be a symbol of our gratitude for the time and effort which you so unselfishly devoted to us.

Student Council

"The object of the Student Council shall be to unite, control, and aid all organized activities, charter all clubs and organizations in Andover High School, and promote the general welfare of students and school by encouraging good citizenship."

The Student Council represents democracy of a small government in action. Made up of its officers and class representatives who were elected at large, the Council governs the entire student body. This year, under the leadership of Mr. John Curtin, Faculty Advisor; Steve Bull, President; Jimmy Gillan, Vice-President; Karolyn Kennedy, Corresponding Secretary; Carla Wormwood, Recording Secretary; and Patti Neil, Treasurer; the Council has initiated the Honor Library Pass and Honor Study systems.

Student Activity Center

The Student Activity Center, affectionately nicknamed SAC by the student body, was instituted in the spring of 1968, an experimental program designed to extend the use of the school facilities and provide Andover High School students with a means of instructive and recreational use of their spare time. From eight to ten in the evenings, Monday through Thursday, the school and its various facilities were open to all Andover High School students. For the sociable, the juke box and ping-pong table were available, for the studious, the library was opened extra hours, and for the ambitious, the gym was available for a "work out." SAC has also served as the base for other activities; during the winter it sponsored several successful ski trips, and throughout the year held a series of "casual" dances. Many thanks are due Mr. James Carroll, faculty adviser, and Ginny Strobel, head chairman, two people who did much to organize SAC and guide it through its first year and a half. Through their leadership, and the cooperation of the town, SAC has been given the potential to be an even greater asset to the school in the coming years.

Induction into the Andover High chapter of the National Honor Society represents the school's highest recognition of those possessing the traits of "... scholarship, leadership, service, and character ...". This year, a select group of juniors and seniors were granted membership in an April evening induction, a traditional and solemn ceremony held in the West Junior High School Auditorium and attended by the parents and friends of the inductees. In addition to planning the induction, the society found itself involved in several other activities—the convention, and fundraisers. In February, two students and Faculty Advisor Louise Hayes attended the regional NHS convention, voted for regional officers, and heard several speakers. Along with the traditional bakery sale, dance, and spring candy sale to raise money for scholarships, the NHS instituted a student-run bookstore in the Student Activity Room, potentially a constant source of funds to the Society as well as service to the Student Body. Under the leadership of Gary Tomlinson, President; Randy Thompkins, Vice-President; Patti Neil, Secretary-Treasurer; Chester Bisbee, Publicity Coordinator; and Miss Louise Hayes, Faculty Advisor, the National Honor Society strove to make their principles "... scholarship, leadership, service, and character ..." functional realities in Andover High.

A yearbook is a lasting publication. Like a novel it presents a multitude of characters in joy and sorrow, in tranquility and conflict. The 1969 Andanno's purpose has been to capture seniors in their high school years. It presents a kaleidoscope of their life at Andover High School: sports, clubs, undergraduate friends, and faculty associates. The job of organizing a yearbook requires individual responsibilities as well as team effort in meeting deadlines and in pleasing the purchasers of its publication. This year the yearbook is presented to you under the guidance of Mr. Richard Evans, the Andanno's new advisor, and Susan Hadam, Editor-in-Chief. It is the Andanno's hope that the creation of this yearbook is one of which the Class of 1969 is proud.

A collection of Andover High School students' creative work is found, twice a year, within the Spindrift, our new literary magazine which first appeared in the spring of 1968. Spindrift—literally, the spray from the crest of a wave—presents short stories, essays, plays, poems, sketches and photographs, chosen by its editorial board from the many submitted. The magazine began in 1968 under Co-Editors Beth Rozen and William Stickland, and Faculty Advisor, Mrs. Andra Hawkes, and continued as such through the new school year. Spindrift, as the focus of Andover High School's creative talent, will soon become as much of a tradition within the school as the school paper and yearbook.

AFS—At Home

The purpose of the American Field Service is to create a better understanding among the peoples of the world through the exchange of selected students from different countries to spend a summer or a year abroad. This year the club sponsored a successful Christmas card sale to help defray the expenses of our Foreign Exchange Student. In November, six Andover families shared their weekend activities with AFS'ers from local regions. In January, the club hosted more Local Exchange Students for an AFS Day in which the AFS'ers attended classes and held panel discussions in the high school. This year, under the guidance of Mrs. Barbara Seigney, the faculty advisor who replaced Mrs. Henschman; Betsy Beaven, President; Ted Haykal, Vice-President; and Betsy Kyger, Secretary-Treasurer; the club has enjoyed a productive and profitable year.

Winston Francisco

"Walk together, talk together all ye peoples of the earth then, and only then shall ye have peace."

This quotation from an old Asian philosopher has echoed through the ages in the halls of human wisdom and thinking. The message and understanding in it is the main reason why the American Field Service adopted it for its motto.

Every year thousands of youngsters all over the world flock to the United States to have a year of experience with their hosts' communities. Every year thousands of American teenagers go to different countries on this globe to have a better understanding of their fellow men.

I share the views of the other AFS students—that we are here to learn how other peoples, Americans in particular, live, and to be able to understand them better. There is no better way of learning than to experience the real thing.

Not only do we come in contact with one group of people, but many, sixty-one in all. The disparity of this organization is covered up by a single idea!—promotion of peace.

What we, the AFS students, learned here will be forever treasured in our memories. We are sure, too, that the people with whom we stayed have learned some things from us. The time will come when we will become "The Establishment". Then all the things that we acquired in this particular year will be of tremendous importance to us.

DEIRDRE ROBINSON

*Wetzikon
Zurich, Switzerland*

January 18, 1969

In the same year that man has orbited the moon and is preparing to land upon it, being less than half the world away doesn't seem very far anymore. Despite different environments, there exist similarities in human nature that make the adjustments to foreign surroundings an easier than expected task. It's not so much the physical difference, but rather the attitude of a tiny, neutral country, the discipline and habits of a good Swiss family, and the social atmosphere found in a closely knit class that create the greatest contrasts.

It is a challenge to the imagination of the AHS student to picture himself spending a summer or a year abroad in a land of an entirely different culture; where the language and school systems are so unfamiliar and where Massachusetts is known to many as the land of the Bee Gees.

It is equally challenging to try to pinpoint the purpose of AFS. Your ability to define its goals and to answer the thought-provoking questions tossed to you in a series of interviews may guide you toward spending the most enlightening experience of your life.

Denise Drazy

On January 17 a plane left Logan Airport, but it was no ordinary flight for Denise Drazy. It was the first leg of a flight to New Zealand. A month earlier Denise had been notified of her placement in the AFS Program and learned that she was assigned to live for a year in New Zealand with Mr. and Mrs. Colen Flett and their three children: Ross, 13; Lois, 17; and Jaynor, 19.

Denise's first reactions were enthusiastic. She described New Zealand as one of the most beautiful countries that she had ever visited. She is very happy with her adopted family who lives on a ranch and raises sheep and commented that her "father looks like Mr. Hixon". She was particularly thrilled when she wrote in one letter that her family gave her a pony, Napoleon, something she always wanted. She has joined the natives in drinking a lot of tea and eating a lot of lamb. "They give really nice parties here," said Denise. "They don't dance the crazy modern dances like they do in the United States."

Denise started school ten days after she arrived in New Zealand and was very impressed on the first day when the teachers marched into an assembly wearing black robes. Now that she has become adjusted to school (including the uniforms) Denise is thoroughly enjoying it and finds that the teachers aren't as "fierce" as they first appeared to be.

In the spring of 1968 came Andover High School's first involvement with the town organization, the Andover Citizens for Equal Opportunity, when twenty students participated in the distribution of AC/=O pamphlets. Our involvement grew throughout the summer as students took part in such projects as English tutoring to Spanish-speaking children in Lawrence. In the fall, Andover High School formed its own chapter of the AC/=O, anxious to work with Andover's citizens to improve social conditions in the area. Under faculty advisor and member Mr. Wilbur Hixon, and elected co-chairmen Layne Finnagan and Marjorie Cowdery, the Andover High School chapter of the AC/=O proved its value to the organization with its successful participation in the book drive for Boston public school libraries.

Unnoticed by the majority of the student body, but hard-working and willing are a group of students who devote their study periods assisting the library staff in carrying out the complex functions of our new library. By performing the more routine tasks in the library, the students allow the regular staff to concentrate on organizing an efficient and educational facility.

The common interest of the members of the Spanish Club is in the language, people, and civilization of Spain. Their activities this year included a profitable dance and a banquet with Spanish-style food at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Goclowski. The club also sponsored films and lectures under the guidance of its officers: Thomas McClary, President; Carol Newman, Vice-President; Jean Savinelli, Secretary; James Caffrey, Treasurer; and Ann Cook, Social Committee Chairman.

Latin Club

The Latin Club's primary function is to promote interest in ancient cultures. The members hold an annual banquet at Saturnalia, the Roman Christmas, when they feast on traditional Roman food. Other activities include field trips to places of interest such as the Museum of Fine Arts to view ancient works of art. This year the club was ably advised by Mrs. Kittredge Henchman and actively led by Claire Dimlich, President; Lois Grant, Vice-President; Eve-Ellen Iskols, Secretary; and Beth Rozen, Treasurer.

French Club

The French Club is comprised of students interested in the language and culture of France. It accomplishes its purpose through lectures and films. The only requirement for membership is that the student complete at least one year of the language, since all the meetings are conducted in French. The club held a successful bakery sale and a successful dance to finance a trip to a French restaurant. This year the club is advised by Miss Alison Guess and led by Susan Simonds, President; Ann Martellini, Vice-President; Nancy Collins, Secretary.

International Relations Club

The purpose of the International Relations Club, which is affiliated with the World Affairs Council in Boston, is to present programs on international affairs through discussions and lectures. In November the club held a mock presidential election and in the spring they sponsored their annual trip to the United Nations. The club is responsible for the daily distribution of The New York Times in the school. The officers are David Johnson, President; Stephen Cooper, Vice-President; Cathy Tweedy, Secretary; Ronald Groezinger, Treasurer; and Susan Beau-lieu, Publicity Chairman. The club's advisor is Mr. John McCusker.

Math Club

The Math Club provides interested students with an opportunity to sharpen their knowledge in the field of mathematics. As a member of the Massachusetts Mathematics League, the Math Club sends ten Andover High School students to compete with other clubs in monthly meets. The club, headed by Mr. Victor Walshe, has a promising future.

Service Club

The Service Club is comprised of students who are willing to spend time serving the community and the school. This year through the leadership of its advisor, Miss Coccozza, and its officers: Liz McMahon, President; Carlene LaFrenier, Vice-President; Barbara Moerloos, Secretary; and Tom McClary, Treasurer, the club completed many worthwhile projects. It sponsored a Halloween party for the children at Bon Secours Hospital and decorated the school for the Christmas holidays. The Service Club dance and bakery sales provided the necessary funds for these projects. This club deserves much praise for the happiness and help it has brought to other people.

Independent Research

Paula Tatarunis

The value of learning through research cannot be over-emphasized, especially in the field of science. The two seniors pictured below, Juan Valdecasas and Paula Tatarunis, were among several selected to pursue individual science projects with the school's science facilities and under the guidance of a member of the science faculty.

This past year saw the institution of a new program of independent study designed to allow selected science students to research a topic of their choice under the guidance of a member of the science faculty. By providing them with the facilities of the school's laboratories and the guidance of its faculty, the program afforded the participants the opportunity to learn the value of research techniques and scientific discipline while they gained knowledge in an area that interested them. Junior David Johnson and seniors Juan Valdecasas and Paula Tatarunis were selected to take part in the program, and worked under Mr. William H. Deacon, faculty advisor and originator of the idea of an Independent Research program, an idea that promises to be a vital, expanding part of Andover High School's science department.

Juan Valdecasas

Outward Bound

The purpose of Outward Bound is to help the students of Andover High School develop an interest in the national Outward Bound program. One of its goals is to raise funds for a scholarship to send a student to an Outward Bound School. This year the club shoveled snow to raise money for a scholarship. Both Karen Nelson and Nancy Vogel have attended an Outward Bound School in Minnesota and have experienced the rigors and the satisfaction of this program. The club is advised by Mr. John Igoe and led by Karen Nelson, President; Nancy Vogel, Vice-President; Diane Hayes, Secretary; and Peter Ellis, Treasurer.

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is to promote an interest in the field of education. This year a program was instituted whereby the club's members became teachers' aides at the South Elementary School. Various filmstrips, speakers from all levels of education, and group discussions proved to be helpful to all the members. A successful dance was organized through the hard work of its officers: Kathy Morrissey, President; Gloria Passanisi, Vice-President; Gail Marshall, Secretary; and Denise Vulgaropulos, Treasurer. Miss Rachel Paquin is the club's faculty advisor.

The Pep Club

The Pep Club is one of the largest organizations in Andover High School. Its main purpose is to promote school spirit by encouraging student support of the various athletic events. This year through the hard work of Nancy Pike, President; Jill Welch, Vice-President; Beth Curtin, Secretary-Treasurer; and Sheila Prout, Social Committee Chairman; the club sponsored two successful night pep rallies. In addition to this the club members decorated the team and spectator buses for football games. The club's advisor is Mrs. Madeline Simeone.

First row: Jill Welch and Nancy Pike. Second row: Sheila Prout, Mrs. Simeone, and Beth Curtin.

Varsity Club

The Andover High School Varsity Club is comprised of student athletes who have gained membership into the organization by receiving a varsity letter. The club encourages good sportsmanship by rewarding athletes with superior skills. Awards are made annually to the most valuable players in each of the major sports. The Varsity Club sponsors the Basketball Jamboree, held in early December, and the Varsity Club Dance, held in March.

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Collins, Advisor, and the club's officers: Doug Thompson, President; Gary Tomlinson, Vice-President; Mary Norris, Secretary; and Meri, Hanson, Treasurer, the Varsity Club aids in molding responsible and skilled athletes into respectable citizens.

SPORTS

Football

The Andover High Golden Warrior football team of 1968 ended the season with a 6-2-1 record. The team was not dominated by any individual stars, but won its games by integrating a tough offensive and a good backfield with a strong defensive unit. Jim Gillan was voted as the Most Valuable Player by his teammates. The Varsity Club awards for Outstanding Offensive and Defensive Players were presented to Joe Johnston and Doug Towne respectively.

The Class of 1969 wishes to thank Mr. Collins and his entire coaching staff for their superb leadership and guidance throughout the football season.

Mr. John Curtin was the new coach of the Cross Country team this year. After dropping their first meet, the Warriors came back with seven wins and one loss. This placed them in second position in the Merrimack Valley Conference. Despite the fact that Co-Captain Gary Tomlinson was sidelined during the season, the Warriors went on to third place in the Massachusetts Class C State Meet with outstanding performances by Co-Captain Randy Thompkins and Dan Earley.

Cross Country is considered the loneliest of sports. Each boy must have the heart and desire to go out and run by himself and for himself. Andover High School should be proud of these boys.

The Hockey team started their second season strongly by winning seven and tying one of their first eight games. For the rest of the season they remained high in the League standings and compiled a final record of 13-4-1 which placed them in second position in the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Goalie Ed Rawlings must be considered the Most Outstanding Player in the League. He received added support from Junior Defensemen Mark Hochmeyer and Dave Marson. Captain Chris Munday, Doug Grange, Jim Ganley, Jan Gothsfield, Jeff Morgan, and Craig Bliss composed the team's strong first and second lines.

Coach Vars can be assured of another successful season next year since only a few skaters will be lost through graduation.

Through the aid of Andover parents the 1969 Andover High School Hockey team became the first team in the United States to tour Russia and Europe.

After weathering four busses, two airplanes, and a northeaster, the weary hockey team was finally on its way to London, England via Air India on February 11. After a belated roast beef dinner and a night's rest the team was in the air again—to Sweden. It was in Stockholm where they played and were downed in the first of their games abroad—7-1. After a quick flight to Russia and a busy schedule of sightseeing the Metro, Leinins' tomb, and the Bolshoi Ballet the Warriors scrimmaged the Russian Central Army Team and were trounced by a score of 29-0. The star of the game was Goalie Ed Rawlings who made 79 valiant saves and for whom even the Muscovites cheered. The team was then off to Zurich, Switzerland where they were nipped in a more evenly matched game by the Swiss—7-1.

The Warriors may have lost all of their exhibition games, but the experience which they gained in their two-week, 10,000 mile tour more than made up for their defeats.

After the Bon Voyage ceremony at AHS, the Hockey team quickly poses before boarding the bus for Logan Airport.

The 1969 Basketball team has become one of the highest rated Basketball teams in the history of Andover High School. The Warriors completed the season with an impressive 14-3 record which qualified them for the Tech Tourney.

The Golden Warriors were strong at all positions. Sean Mason, Paul Howe, and Neil Davis were strong off the boards. Co-Captain Pete Johnson supplied the scoring punch and Co-

Captain David Lynch led the team in assists and steals. Don Patullo, Dick Muller, Mark Ayers, Bruce Alexander, and Tom Adams added the depth needed to make the team a success.

Coach Wilbur Hixon expects the majority of the varsity players to return next year with the added strength of the junior varsity team, whose season's standings was 18-0.

After compiling an impressive 7-1 record in its regular seasonal competition, the Andover High Gym team went on to capture the 1969 Gymnastic State Championship. Coach Peter DellaMonica said that he was "very proud" of the team's season. He added that "the boys' hard work and stubborn determination have resulted in a fine Gym team. After all, in order to be considered an Andover athlete a boy must have these qualifications."

The team had many outstanding members. Richard Sei-kunas, the All-Around Gymnast, did especially well in floor exercise and on the parallel bars and the side horse. Co-Captain David Leong excelled in floor exercise and on the parallel bars and the rings. The two outstanding gymnasts on the high bar were Co-Captain Paul Russell and Wes Shattuck. Paul Russell was also skilled on the long horse.

Some of the promising underclassmen on the team were Tim Clough, Mark Dennett, Tim Hatch, Ed Simpson, Scott Thomson, and Tim Wright.

Ellis Rowe, Greg Loosigian, Peter Ellis, Tom Conlon, Ed Fleischer, John Wotten, Steve Owen. Fourth row: Steve Provencal, Randy Thompkins, Jeff Parks, Ted Palmieri, Steve Duffy.

Faced with a past history of having won the North Shore Indoor Track League title three times in the past four years, the 1969 Winter Track Team remained undefeated in all dual meets and once again captured the League Championship. The team put together their pride and abilities when they were most needed in the meet against the strong Beverly club. Leon Sharpe, Van Debose, Ted Palmieri, and Joe Broderick combined in the relay to give us a thrilling 44-42 victory.

Team standouts were Van Debose and Steve Owen (hurdles), Pete Ellis (shot put), Dick Lanier and Scott Provencal (high jump), Joe Broderick and Leon Sharpe (50 yard dash), Ted Palmieri (300), Chet Bisbee (600), John Wooten and Dan Earley (1000), and Clayton White (mile).

Congratulations go to Coaches Bourdelais and Lippman for developing a fine team that continued in the Andover Tradition.

Spring Track

Head Coach Dick Collins looks forward to a very successful season as defending Conference champions. Once again the Golden Warriors expect tough competition against Falmouth in the State Meet. This year our promising squad includes Pete Ellis and Ellis Rowe (shot put), Dick Mullett (javelin), Dick Lanier (high jump), Joe Broderick (long jump and 100), Ted Palmieri (220), David Evans (440), John Wooten (880), Van Debose (hurdles), and Gary Tomlinson, Jeff Parks, and Dan Earley (mile and two mile).

Baseball

Even though snow remains on the ground, the first warm weather signals the time for the Golden Warrior baseball team to take to the field. Returning lettermen Jim Gillan, Chris Mundy, Tim Kenny, Don Patullo, and Neil Davis should form a strong nucleus for Coach Fred Polgreen's squad. Once again though, the team's weakness will be the lack of pitching depth, a problem that could be filled by last year's promising J.V. team. Coach Polgreen looks forward to a productive hitting year combined with hustle on the basepaths to keep the team near the top in league competition.

Cheerleaders

This year the Andover High School cheerleading squad was made up of thirteen sophomore, junior, and senior girls. Their duty was to kindle school spirit in the Student Body throughout the sports year at Andover High. Among the activities and services they performed were the annual Cheerleaders' Dance, bakery sales, and sports rallies. Under the leadership of Coaches Miss Conroy and Mrs. Colella and Captain Patti Neil, the demanding duties required of the AHS cheerleaders were successfully performed.

The Girls' Field Hockey teams started the season on an optimistic note under the leadership of two new coaches: Varsity—Mrs. Crowell, Junior Varsity—Miss Paquin. The strong Varsity defense, led by Captain Meri Hanson, Cheryl Birch, Barbara Hamilton, Mary Norris, Betty Ferrier, and Lee Buchan made it difficult for most teams to score, shutting out three teams. Although downed in its first two attempts, Andover bounced back to win its next three games. A battling 0-0 tie with Methuen and a heartbreaking loss to Billerica closed the season. The driving forward line was led by the season's high scorer, Claudia Cronin, Debbie Rouselle, Karen Moss, Donna Gulezian, Linda Holland, and Kathy Dowd.

The Junior Varsity squad, ending a tough season with a 0-3-3 record, was led by Captain Melissa Seherman, Pat Morin, Suzanne Kirk, Tina Tsepas, Gail Collins, Ann Childs, Chris Champagne, Bev Houholis, and Chris Anderson.

Both teams are appreciative of their coaches' efforts and devotion.

Coach Mrs. Crowell plots the team's strategy.

The Girls' Gymnastic team had the task of building a new team this year. The job was lightened by the girls' untiring efforts and strong dedication. Although losing two meets by extremely close scores, the team was anticipating a win over Burlington in its final meet which would bring them to the State Meet. The team was led by Denise Drazy in the early part of the season and captained by Sharon Moody in the last part of the season.

Competitors in the four events were: floor exercise—Diane Hayes, Sharon Moody, Ann O'Reilly, Jane Chalifour; vaulting—Lee Buchan, Barbara Burnham, Diane Hayes, Suzanne Kirk, Sharon Moody; balance beam—Diane Hayes, Sharon Moody, Ann O'Reilly, Jean Sullivan, Katie Bragdon; uneven parallel bars—Denise Drazy, Karen Nelson, Suzanne Kirk, Judy Hilton, and Kyle Knipe.

A great deal of thanks goes to Mrs. Shaw for the development of such a fine team.

This year's Girls' Basketball team encountered a larger schedule with which to demonstrate the fruits of long hours of hard practice. The girls opened their season with an impressive win over Reading, only to hit a streak of hard luck, losing several of its next games by mere points. The turning point of the season came in the Chelmsford game when the team seemed to gel and played together as a unit. The girls wound up their season winning three of their last four games.

High scorer for the team was Captain Betsy Beaven. The combined efforts of Captain Beaven, Connie Robson, Linda Raye, Karen Moss, Barbara Hamilton, and Meri Hanson led the team to a 4-6 record.

The entire squad wishes to express its sincere appreciation for the guidance of Miss Hill in her coaching debut.

Softball

The 1969 Softball team's leaders: Co-Captain Nancy Pike, Coach Miss Hill, Co-Captain Betsy Beaven.

The 1968 softball team compiled a three win-four loss record, with the losses all being closely contested games.

The game of the season had to be the North Andover game, a real thriller. It was nip and tuck all the way, with Andover winning it 12-9.

Returnees for the 1969 team are Co-Captains Nancy Pike and Betsy Beaven, Lee Buchan, Mary Norris, Meri Hanson, Linda Raye and Karen Burke.

From learning laboratories to lunar missions... Raytheon makes things happen.

A high school student dials a lesson and learns at his own pace... A housewife prepares a meal in minutes in her microwave oven... A submarine listens for intruders in the deep... A seismograph crew explores for oil beneath an African desert.

A radar scans the skies and a supersonic missile stands ready if needed... A new petrochemical plant takes form against a Louisiana sky... A phone conversation is carried by microwaves across the Andes to a remote area of Ecuador... A tiny computer guides an Apollo spacecraft from orbit to on-target splashdown.

These are but a few of the results of Raytheon technology at work around the world.

Today, Raytheon is an international science-based company employing over 50,000 people. Common threads of technology run through and weave together the company's diverse and growing businesses in both government and commercial markets.

At Raytheon, our future is both exciting and challenging. We hope that your future holds a full measure of excitement and challenge too. Perhaps you will find it with us.
